Synectic Systems, Inc. (Synectics), global manufacturer of digital recording systems, industrial cameras, analogue switchers, and award-winning command and control Synergy™ software has been selected by Hyatt's Grand Victoria Casino and Resorts to provide an integrated digital recording surveillance solution for their property in Rising Sun, Indiana.

Grand Vic's resort amenities include a historic river boat casino with 40,000 square feet of gaming space, 1,500 machines, over 50 table and poker games and southern Indiana's only true Scottish links-style golf course.

After nearly four years of evaluating systems, Grand Victoria chose Synectics for its high quality video, superior user interface, and ability to integrate with their existing cameras, POS system, etc. The enterprise-class Synectics solution at Rising Sun will record and monitor over 700 cameras, while simultaneously integrating to and controlling a Pelco matrix switch. Powered by Synergy™, Synectics' flexible command and control user interface, the system will provide Grand Victoria Casino surveillance operators instantaneous access to live and recorded H.264 digital video with multiple layers of system fail over for around-the-clock reliability and comprehensive, scalable, and centralized security management.

“Winning this project has special significance for our organization since Grand Vic Rising Sun was the first casino we demonstrated to nearly five years ago. It has been a long, enjoyable courtship and we intend to fulfill our original promise to create one of most advanced surveillance rooms in the country for our client,” says John Katnic, Vice President and Chief Operating Officer of Synectics North America.
