Oregon's Largest Casino Selects Synectics' Digital Solution for Expansion Project

May 2007 – Synectic Systems, Inc. (Synectics), global provider of enterprise class digital video recording, CCTV matrix switching, and award-winning command and control software products, has been selected by Spirit Mountain Gaming, Inc. in Grand Ronde, Oregon to provide an advanced, integrated digital video surveillance solution. The facility, owned and operated by the Confederated Tribes of Grand Ronde, is Oregon's #1 tourist destination offering travelers casino games, restaurants, entertainment venues, and lodging.

Spirit Mountain Casino evaluated a number of digital video systems before choosing Synectics. "We selected Synectics mainly because of its superior feature set, fail over reliability and out-standing support," stated Steve Bobb, Surveillance Director for Spirit Mountain Casino. "The system's high quality video, ease of use and quick access to recorded images more than meet the high demands of the casino marketplace and our needs in particular."

The Synectics solution being installed at Spirit Mountain will record and control well over a thousand cameras, provide motion picture quality recording, instantaneous accessibility, and around the clock reliability essential to gaming operators. The surveillance system will also integrate with the casino's access control, point of sale cash registers and player tracking systems to deliver comprehensive, scalable and centralized security management.

"Our 20+ years of experience in engineering, manufacturing and maintaining digital video surveillance solutions specifically for the gaming industry have earned Synectics a loyal customer base and high degree of trust in this industry," stated John Katnic, Vice President and Chief Operating Officer of Synectics in the U.S. "We are proud to be a key partner with the Spirit Mountain Casino during their exciting expansion phase and we look forward to commissioning the world-class surveillance solution this premier resort deserves."

About Spirit Mountain Casino
